I try to set the system time of the destination system (where the files were originally located) to the same as the source system (now containing the drive) by setting the clock. And then try to run 'wpefs -rk' command. But it's does not match the destination system time to the source. How to fix this problem? A: I do not know if it is a common problem but your case is pretty easy to fix. What you have to do is to open the Diskpart tool, from the Start Menu (or on the shortcut on the desktop) And make sure to select the Disk 1 by entering the Disk number: If you then run the command 'wpefs -rk /dev/DISK 1' it should work. I tested the solution successfully: Tuesday, December 20, 2016 Tiffany Haddish: Tiffany Haddish Has a Hidden Talent Tiffany Haddish is an American Comedian, Writer, and Actor.
