Compatible with all Windows based computers as well as all editions of Microsoft Office. I'll let the screen shots tell you the rest of the story. Q: Handling Exception with Socket.io I am currently working with Socket.io in my application and I want to implement a solution where if I hit a database that is down, or fails, it will automatically fail the entire io connection and disconnect the client. The method I am using right now is: `myIo.on('connection', function (socket) { var self = this; var dbConnection = db.connect(); var dbVal = dbConnection.select(query); socket.on('foo', function(data) { console.log(data); self.emit(data.id, data.value); }); }); myIo.on('`
