Q: Using a if then clause Hi all I am new to trying to get this to work but I have been battling with it all morning. I have this in my script and it is not working if `a[z + 1][3]` is not 301, 302, 303, or 307

#We are looking for the correct code then `a[z][3] = "301"` I keep getting the message Missing statement. Thanks for any help!

A: What you have there is not a valid if-then statement. It is unclear what you are trying to accomplish, but it may be what you need instead. if ($a[$z + 1][3]!~

/^301$|^302$|^303$|^307$/i) { $a[$z][3] = '301'; }

The semiconductor integrated circuit (IC) industry has experienced exponential growth.

Technological advances in IC materials and design have produced generations of ICs where each generation has smaller and more complex circuits than the previous generation. In the course of IC evolution, functional density (i.e., the number of interconnected devices per chip area) has generally increased while geometry size (i.e., the smallest component
