Wiener Neustadt in the Alpine ski region of Vorarlberg have a population of over 100.000 people, included Vorarlberg's capital Niederhaslach (capital for Vorderaslach). This area is where the local mountain resorts are located. That's how the region's capital city looks like. The settlement of Niederhaslach has well over 100.000 inhabitants, which makes the local capital most-populated Vorarlberg city. To the west of the capital you find the municipality of Gelten (population 27.000). This small municipality stands out due to its growing economy in a region known for its mining industry. The settlement of Gelten is the place where you will find the largest employer in Vorarlberg, the „Vorarlbergische Zellenwerk AG“ (VZW). The population of the Vorarlberg region is made up of many different tribes. A tribe of the Montakari are the Bantols who are a minority in Vorarlberg. In the middle of the region you will find the melting pot of as many different cultures and languages. A location where you can experience the polyglot diversity of the region. In the end we are all humans anyway. In the Vorarlberg region you will also find a lot of exotic animals, wild deer and reindeer (and even bears). The food in Vorarlberg varies from regional specialities to the supermarkets' offerings. The winters in Vorarlberg are long but not cold. The summers are short, but very nice. The local people and their words:

When you ask your parents and their friends to help you get ready for college, you're asking them to drive you to your first day of classes. Ask them to help you navigate your way through campus. Ask them to help you understand what a college campus is like. They might even ask if you're sure that's what you want. "Your parents want you to be happy, so they'll want you to do well in college," says Nellie Lutnick, the registrar and coordinator of career services at Mount Holyoke College in Massachusetts. They might even make you go to orientation and the campus tour. But they won't want to pay for it.

"There's a stereotype of the college student buying all of his or her books and clothes and more," says Lutnick. Instead, they want to know that you'll be okay. That you'll find a job. And that you'll be on time every day.

"That's the single most important thing that parents are looking for," says

Lutnick. Looking forward to a good fireworks show at Victoria's Inner Harbour Whoops!
