Roblox is an online game platform and game creation system developed by Roblox Corporation that allows users to program games and play games created by other users. Created by David Baszucki and Erik Cassel in 2004 and released in 2006, the platform hosts user-created games of multiple genres coded in the programming language Lua. For most of Roblox's history, it was relatively small, both as a platform and a company. Roblox began to grow rapidly in the second half of the 2010s, and this growth has been accelerated by the COVID-19 pandemic. Roblox is free to play, with in-game purchases available through a virtual currency called Robux. As of August 2020, Roblox had over 164 million monthly active users, including more than half of all American children under 16. Although Roblox has received generally positive reviews from critics, it has faced criticism for its moderation, microtransactions, and exploitative practices directed toward children. Are there any ways to get free robux? You should try the robux generator sites that have been provided for you.Q: Makefile: how to build two object files from one source I need to build two object files (one for A, one for B) from one source file. The difference between them is that A includes B and B includes A. Here is the code to compile the source file: ARCHIVE=A SRCS=./A.c./B.c When I do make ARCHIVE, I get the whole output of A.c and B.c, not just the parts of A.c and B.c that include each other. How to resolve this? A: While doing it that way, you will get a long list of yacc: bison parser.y file1.l file2.y lex.yy.c errors on the console, because make actually first compiles the Yacc (your parser) before starting to compile the code. In order to solve this, you should use the GNU tools (bison and flex) and a Makefile that doesn't compile the sources first. Assuming you're using GNU make, you could do the following: ARCHIVE=A SRCS=./A.c./B.c yacc: $(SRCS) $(BISON) -d -o $(BINDIR)/yacc.c -c $(SRCS) $(FLEX) -t -o $(BINDIR)/bison.c -c $(BINDIR)/yacc.c %.o: %.c $(CC) $(CPPFLAGS) $(CFLAGS) -c $
